

JOSEPHINE (BRAZIL) LINDEN

OG69

Josephine was a student at Kambala and credits the School for instilling an excellent foundation of morals values, dedication and intellectual curiosity, as well as providing financial scholarship for several years.

Josephine received a Bachelor of Arts from The University of Sydney and an MBA from the University of Chicago. She became an advisor to Goldman Sachs and JB Were Australia before becoming Partner and Managing Director of Goldman Sachs. She was with the firm for over 25 years and retired in 2009.

Josephine is Founder and CEO of Linden Global Strategies LLC, a wealth management advisory firm. She is the Chair of the Board of Lands' End and sits on the boards of Trine Acquisition Corporation and PinnacleCare. She is Ambassador for the USA of Advance and financial advisor for the Prince of Wales Foundation in Washington.

Josephine was an Adjunct Professor at the Business School of Columbia University, where she taught a class in wealth management, and currently teaches and moderates ad hoc sessions. Josephine and her husband Thomas live in New York City and have three children.

Josephine continues to maintain strong ties to Australia. Josephine presented the Australia Day address in New York on two occasions and was guest speaker at the Kambala Annual Distribution of Prizes in 2015.

As an Old Girl, Josephine gives back to the School by offering the Linden Fellowship to an Old Girl of Kambala, who dreams of a career in Finance and the experience of working in New York City.
